Bespoke Experiences, a new boutique service in New Orleans, is offering custom, private travel experiences for elite travelers. Headed by Travis and Jennifer Simpson with Bespoke LLC, the premier service offers fully escorted expeditions of the city by Travis and Jennifer. Their unique itineraries will take global travelers through NOLA in luxurious style. Aligning with guests' personal interests, the team hopes to fill a niche for the world-class traveler.

Of New Orleans' 9 million annual visitors, the service will target the top two percent including international business travelers and executives, celebrities, political figures and all high-net worth individuals. With over 40 years of combined luxury hospitality experience, partners Travis and Jennifer Simpson have built a respected reputation in New Orleans with top brands such as Marriott, Starwood and Omni.

"Bespoke Experiences is not a New Orleans tour company, and these are not packaged tours. To ensure everyone receives the 1:1 attention they deserve we limit our entourage to private parties of five or less. Their experience begins when they need us, and their fully customized itinerary is designed to blend their interests with local offerings after a detailed interview," said Jennifer. "We research each of our guests so we know who they are, allowing us to add personal touches to their excursion so they feel special and understood. Our goal is to 'surprise and delight' each guest. We deliver the superior level of personalized service, local expertise, and attention to detail our elite guests are accustomed to, combined with warm Southern grace and charm to ensure a lasting impression."

For those taking part, they can choose from multi-day, full- or half-day excursions or solely per hour options. Travis and Jennifer are dedicated to making guests feel at ease among like-minded travelers and by allowing them to see the best that New Orleans has to offer. This exclusive service is separate from a larger luxury tour division, transportation or event/wedding planning company which gives them the freedom to customize their tours specifically for each visitor. Taking it one step further, Bespoke reinvests a percentage of their profits through various organizations with monthly charitable contributions.

"We build our experiences around the people of New Orleans, often integrating personal introductions to the diverse artists, chefs and performers who make this city great," said Travis. "In return, our business model was designed to give back, ensuring the culinary and arts community receive the support they need to thrive and grow."
